DR. RALPH W. LLOYD
President of Maryville College

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

As President of the College it is my privilege to represent the Faculty and Staff and the Directors in extending a cordial welcome to old and new students as they enter upon the college year. Our prayer is that each may be given health and good opportunity.

There are approximately one hundred persons on the faculty and the administrative and maintenance staff and thirty-six members of the Board of Directors. All are sincerely interested in every Maryville College student and in making the institution the most effective possible.

These lines help introduce a booklet which contains a great deal of valuable information which I commend to you for reading now and reference throughout the year. May it be a successful year.

—RALPH WALDO LLOYD,
President of Maryville College

T IS FOR TRADITION

Talk about Traditions—Maryville's got 'em! Old ones, new ones—and you'll never feel yourself a part of the Hill till you know most of them. We think our traditions are sort of special, something you'll remember particularly nostalgically when you're old and grey graduates.

You'll always remember your first days at Maryville as days of lines—lines at the Personnel Office, lines at the Treasurer's Office, lines at the Bookstore. Then that longest and long-remembered line of hand-shakers at the FACULTY RECEPTION. You'll want to dress formally as you can to meet and get acquainted with the MC faculty members. There'll be new faces and names which will grow to mean a lot to you during your college stay.

Since membership in the girls' societies—Bainonian and Theta Epsilon—and the men's societies—Alpha Sigma and Athenian—is open to all members of the student body, respectively, of course, the four societies go all out during RUSH WEEK to line up all new students as prospective members. In consecutive weeks the two brother-and-sister societies conduct intensive membership drives culminating in the Saturday night formal program. Last year Bainonian and Athenian presented a South of the Border musical program, while Theta and Alpha Sig entertained with a World Cruise musical revue.

When you hear Tuesday night called TOWN NIGHT, you'll know it's The Night of the week when you and your date can enjoy a movie, bowling, skating or just a hamburger and french fries downtown till ten o'clock. Mark our words—the bright lights of Broadway (Maryville's main street, of course) will lure you on Town Nights.

Other week-day nights you'll want to have a coke and a sandwich or a malted milk at the STUDENT CENTER. Besides being open for all students during the day as a lounge and recreation center, the attractive white building contains the Y-STORE which is open at various daytime hours and from 9:30 till 10:15 at night. After big doings, like ball games or the various Saturday night happenings, the Y-Store opens long enough for refreshments, too.

SUNDAY VESPERS feature guest speakers and the music of the College's outstanding A Capella Choir. Held in Lamar Library since the Chapel fire, Vespers closes the Sunday program with a tone of quiet dignity and worship.

You'll envy the lovely senior girl elected to reign as Queen on FOUNDERS' AND HOMECOMING DAY. Dorms are colorfully decorated to receive the alumni who arrive in great numbers for their outdoor barbeque. The morning is marked by a dignified chapel service commemorating the College's founding, and the evening is highlighted by your best yells from the football field as the Highlanders meet their toughest foes on our home gridiron.

Your guess is as good as ours as to what will be the theme of this year's BARNWARMING. This, THE big show of the fall, is held every Thanksgiving eve in Alumni Gym, its program planned by the campus Y's. Following a period during which you can visit the various little "shops" set up around the gym fringes, you'll see a gala extravaganza featuring the best talent the campus can produce. Oh yes—reigning monarchs are the King and Queen, chosen from the senior class, and their attendants who, while elected by the student body some weeks before, remain Maryville's top secret till Barnwarming night. In past years the gym has become the lost continent of Atlantis, a gypsy forest, and

New Orleans at Mardi Gras time for Barnwarming; wonder what the '49 show will be?

And then Christmas comes around, bringing not only a short vacation preceded by final exams, but also the annual presentation of Handel's MESSIAH. Yours can be one of the hundreds of voices which, accompanied by the College orchestra and Miss Davies at the organ, presents this enthralling oratorio.

You'll enjoy those Christmas holidays well enough, but we'll bank on your eagerness to get back on campus quickly enough when they're over! That's in January; in February comes the week when emphasis is shifted more to spiritual thoughts during FEBRUARY MEETINGS. Mid-morning chapel services, a bit longer than usual, give you time to appreciate the messages of the year's speaker and the well-known hymns we sing.

February also marks the College's drive for its FRED HOPE FUND. Established in memory and tribute of one of Maryville's outstanding graduates, this fund enables one of our fellow students to work in the foreign mission field. You'll want to contribute to this worthwhile drive.

It's worth getting up early and traipsing out to the College amphitheatre to see the sun rise as the choir sings "Alleluia" in the annual EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE.

Once each year the dorms hold OPEN HOUSE when the fellows and girls display their rooms to each other and the general public. This occasion is immediately preceded by some exhaustive house cleaning and is generally followed by loud sighs of relief. Both fellows and girls are interested in seeing just How the Other Half Lives, and moms and dads drop around to see how jr. and sis are taking care of their rooms.

Big musical program of the spring is SPRINGTIME SENERADE, inaugurated two years ago by the Men's Glee Club and the All-Girl Choir. Framed in a lovely stage setting, these groups present a fascinating program of musical numbers from popular operettas, accompanied by twin pianos and Mr. Hughes at the electric organ console.

Our lovely amphitheatre in the College Woods becomes such varied scenes as the Emerald City of Oz or a Southern plantation for the annual MAY DAY PAGEANT. Some lovely senior girl and her attendants reign over the festivities, which feature music, dancing, and acting combined in an attractive pageant. Previous pageants have been Robin Hood, the Wizard of Oz, and Plantation Story, dramatized from the Uncle Remus tales.

When COMMENCEMENT comes it marks not only the beginning of a new life for the departing seniors but the end of another experience-packed College year. The dignified services are climaxed by the Commencement exercises with the processional of the Daisy Chain, the faculty, and the graduating class. The Daisy Chain, composed of 14 girls of the junior class, make the long daisy chains between which the graduating seriors march down the aisle toward diplomas and freedom. We feel sure the departing seniors have more than the little initials after their names to remember, though.

But it's "See you next fall!" for the rest of us —and toward the end of that LONG SUMMER VACATION we find ourselves anxious to get back to the College which has become so much a part of our lives and personalities.

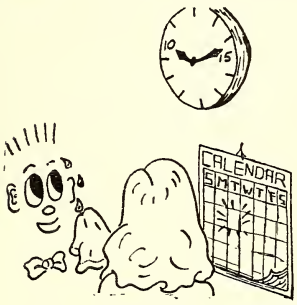
D IS FOR DATING

You'll probably meet a "he" or a "she" you want to date very soon (after you start your college career, if you're a freshman), so here are a few thing's you'll have to remember. Parlor dates may be had in the women's dormitory parlors from 7:15 until 10 any weekday evening by arranging with the Dormitory Head. Junior and senior women may have an unlimited number, while freshmen and sophomores are limited to four each month. Sunday dating is for services only, except Easter and Baccalaureate Sundays, when afternoon dating is also permitted.

Calling hours for men in women's dormitories are on weekdays from 1:00 to 1:20 p. m., 3:30 to 5:30 p. m., and 6:30 to 7:15 p. m.; Town Night from 6:30 to 7:15 p. m., and 9:30 to 10 p. m.; Sunday afternoon from 1:00 to 1:20 p. m.; Saturday afternoon from 1:00 to 5:30 p. m. Men may stay in the dorms after Vespers on Sunday until 8:15 and after Student Vols until 9:15. Couples may be together within Circle Drive each weekday evening until 7:15; on Sunday, Circle Drive time limit is 7:00, and couples may be together after lunch until 1:20 p. m.

Dating is allowed at announced college activities. Couples must return to the women's dormitories within fifteen minutes after the close of the activity or immediately after leaving the Student Center, and men do not stay after that time. Otherwise there is no dating on weekday evenings, except that men may walk back with women directly from the library or Student Center to the women's dormitories and leave immediately.

When you're a senior, you'll have additional privileges technically called WSGA Senior Privileges. Each senior woman is allowed an extra Town Night governed by regular rules. On this night (other than Tuesday night) dating is permitted to seniors in Knoxville provided they are in the dormitory by 8:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon dating is also allowed for seniors between 3 and 5:30 p. m. on the campus, in residential areas of the city, and for groups of couples in the College Woods and around the loop. Seniors must report all underclass women who take advantage of senior privileges as well as violating seniors to the Executive Committee of WSGA.



Before entertaining an overnight guest, be sure to make necessary arrangements with the Dietician and Head of the dormitory; also, please have your guests register in the guest book.

In planning parties, picnics, and other social activities, you must secure approval from the Dean of Women at least five days in advance. Dates for all-campus activities of large groups must be scheduled by the Dean of Curriculum. All social activities must be properly chaperoned and must be held on campus or at some approved place. The Y rooms are available for parties and such if arrangements are made in advance through the YWCA House Committee and the plans approved by the Dean of Women.

Official Town Night is Tuesday night when students may go to town. Girls must be in groups of three or with a date and must sign out and in on the sign-out sheet between 5 and 10:15 p. m. When special permission is granted, girls must notify either the president or the secretary of the Student Council. Students must take a direct route to town and stay within specified boundaries. There shall be no loitering on campus, on the way to and from town, or in front of the women's dormitories. Upon returning, couples may go directly to the Student Center by signing out previously on the sign-out sheet. Couples may also come into the women's dormitory parlors between 9:30 and 10 p. m.

You'll want to avoid breaking these rules, which lead to suspension of Town Night privileges, as levied by the Student Council: for loitering—two months; being out of bounds—four months; failing to sign in or out—three weeks; failure of girls to be in groups of three or with date—four months; and overstaying time limit—two months. Two demerits may be given for infringing on Town Night suspension.

Social dancing was last year's big step in MC social life. Dancing each weekday (except Saturday) evening following supper till 7:15 is informal, held in Intramural Gymnasium.

The Fall Dance, scheduled for some date in the middle of the first semester, has rules that say "No" to: corsages, tuxes, admission charge, and program dances. Music is recorded, and the informal note is set.

For the Big Formal, or Spring Dance, different rules apply. Admission tickets are one dollar per couple, and, since this is a "program dance," only couples are admitted. Gals dress formal, fellows may look just as nice in trim business suits as in tuxedos, which are helpful but not necessary. Corsages are in style. Your request for a non-student guest must be handled through the office of the Dean of Women.

D IS FOR DORMITORY

One of the biggest adjustments you'll have to make is that of living with not only one roommate but also a whole dormful of people! If you're lucky you'll manage the jump with grace; if you're not you'll want to read more carefully than ever these suggestions for happy dormitory life.

To begin with, a dormitory full of varied personalities requires you to use far more patience, consideration, and understanding than you might think you possess. The best rule to follow is the oft-quoted Golden one, which means a lot when it comes to happy dorm living. Respect what little privacy there may be, and let your conduct always be what you'd appreciate from others.

Whether your studying is well-balanced (as it should be) or heavily concentrated during certain cramming periods (as it won't be if you budget your time properly) you'll appreciate your neighbor's being considerate about loud radios, talking, hall yelling, and door slamming. Not to mention spending their time in your room. Naturally enough, your neighbors will appreciate these little courtesies on your part, too.

Don't wait till time for the yearly Open House to do the hurried housecleaning that will deceive your mother as to the habitual condition of your room. A little regular cleaning will do wonders for your room's appearance and your roommate's good humor. Your floor janitor will also stay in a good humor if you don't sweep the dirt into the hall he or she has to clean.

It's a fact that Cleanliness is next to Impossible when the bathroom is filled with drying clothes and the tubs and basins reflect a critical lack of thought on the part of the person immediately preceding you. Everyone appreciates consideration in the form of clean bathroom facilities. Also, you never know whom you're going to meet in the hall, so if you must meander, meander properly clad to avoid possible mutual embarrassment.

Little things like borrowing extensively from your roommate—not only money, but also ties and blouses, playing your radio both loud and late, catty discussions of your friends and others, monopolizing the telephone, and extensive visiting during quiet hours may seem trifles to you, but your dormitory reputation hangs on such slender threads as those.

FOR YOUR ROOM

Chief on the list of Requireds is that mattress pad you'll have to have for your bed, but your room will look all the better for any amount of "prettying-up" you care to do. Extensive alterations and improvements need the OK of the Head of the Dormitory and the Director of Maintenance, but they're very cooperative about your fixing your room. Remember, you're the one responsible for the condition of your room and its furnishings.

Owing to the always-present fire hazard in the dormitories, overloading of the electric circuits is discouraged by limiting the use of equipment. If you need more light than you can squeeze out of the 150 watts the College allows each room in the form of one overhead drop cord (and one wall plug in the men's dorm), you may have 50 additional watts for $2.50. Ask your dormitory head to make out an extra-current card and pay for it at the Treasurer's Office during registration. If you want to bring your radio, be prepared to pay the $2.50 fee for it, too. And pay the fees promptly, because they are upped to $3.50 if late. But if you're a good figurer of wattage you can bring things like clocks, lamps (preferably the fluorescent kind which take fewer watts), radios and razors. No hotplates, irons or electric hair driers may be used in the rooms; ironing can be done on the ironing boards in each laundry.

Extension cords looped around on the floor or hanging from bare nails are forbidden not only by the College but also by state fire inspectors. You'll be expected to comply with the "lights out" and "light cut" regulations that apply to your dorm, as well as the regulation against playing your radio between 11 at night and 6 in the morning.

Regulations require penalties, but the latter won't apply to you if you follow the former. Electrical equipment used contrary to dorm regulations is liable to confiscation for the rest of the semester. Your radio particularly, if played after 11 p. m., will find itself in the office for one month. Of course smoking is forbidden anywhere on campus, but it would be doubly dangerous to do so in your room; you'll be subject to College discipline if you're found smoking in your room. Possessing liquor bottles, road signs, someone else's key or pass key, or firearms is considered, obviously, a disciplinable offense.

If you're going to live in the dormitory, or are an out-of-town student rooming off campus, don't plan to bring a car for use at College. If you think yours may be an unusual case entitling you to special permission, make a written request through the Personnel Office. Local Maryville students who regularly use cars at the College and faculty members who drive to and from and park on the campus must secure permit tags and parking spaces from the Director of Maintenance.

You'll need a permit from the Director of Student Employment in order to act as an agent for any business firm in any of the dormitories.

Each dormitory plans and participates in emergency drills; be familiar with your dorm's procedure and regulations and follow them to the letter. Violation of rules for these drills is considered a serious offense, as is meddling with any dormitory fire equipment.

Out of consideration for yourself and others, observe the quiet or study hours which last from 7:15 till 11 p. m. in the dormitories each day except Saturday and Sunday. The Library's a good place to study from Monday through Friday from 7 to 10 each night; women students must sign out and in, in their respective dorms.

Notify your house mother if you become ill. She'll arrange to have your absences from Chapel and classes excused by signing a list of these absences on a little yellow form which you can obtain from and return to the Personnel Office. Turn in these absence reports, signed, within two days after you return to classes; otherwise the excuse will not be approved.

If it is necessary for you to go to the College Hospital as a patient, you'll want to take your own pajamas, towels, washcloths, etc., after arrangements have been made for your entrance by the head of your dormitory. Visiting hours in the hospital are between 4 to 7 p. m., and open hours in the infirmary clinic are 4 until 5 p. m. each weekday; the doctor is there on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons. Of course emergency cases will be received any time.

Regulations imposed by civil laws are automatically College regulations, such as the Tennessee state law forbidding the possession and use of fireworks.

Nobody appreciates neatness more than we do, but do your laundering in the laundry rooms, except in emergencies when small amounts of light laundry may be done in the bathrooms, and do your ironing in the laundry rooms or the other specified places. Each dormitory has its own rules concerning use of the washing machines and irons. No laundering is to be done on Sunday, and no ironing, except emergency pressing between 7 and 9 a. m.

WOMEN'S DORMITORIES

In addition to the general rules you've already read, the women's dorms have some particular regulations you'll want to be familiar with.

The dormitory Sign-Out Sheet requires your signature, personally, whenever you leave the campus, either day or night, and for all night activities on the campus — Town Night, the library, or visiting another dormitory. If attending a College function, return to the dorm as soon as it's over; arrangements to attend other functions must be made with the head of your dormitory or with the Dean of Women.

To be absent from the campus, you must always sign out and in on the sign-out sheet. Trips to Maryville or Knoxville may be made any weekday providing you return to the campus before 6 p. m.; trips to Knoxville are not made in the company of men. Groups of two or more girls may walk in the College Woods on weekdays and Sundays not in company of men. If you wish to visit over the weekend or to be absent overnight from the campus, you will have to have written permission from your home or have had your parents previously sign the regular Standing Permissions form which allows you approximately five visits a semester other than to your own home; approval for these visits must be obtained in advance from the dormitory head, and your plans must be discussed with her so that she can fill out your activity card properly.

When properly chaperoned and arranged, week-end camping trips are allowed; seniors and juniors may have two such trips a year, and sophomores and freshmen, one.

You'll be asked to serve as monitor for your floor at least once during the semester. This means you'll have to be present on your floor during the time you're on duty, seeing that halls are kept quiet during study hours and that students are in their own rooms after 11 p. m. It's your job to check on proper use of lights and radios at night, to answer the buzzer, and to see that rules in general are obeyed. Violations are to be reported to the House Committee.

Outgoing telephone calls may be made and received any time between 6 a. m. and 11 p. m. Outgoing calls, except to faculty and staff, are to be made on the pay phones; incoming calls will be received on the office phone.

You may be summoned before the House Committee for infraction of these dormitory rules, as provided for by the monitors and officers of WSGA: ironing on Sunday other than at the specified time; abusing light-cut regulations; being in another's room after 11 p. m.; laundering in bathroom contrary to regulations; being in bathroom after 11 p. m. for other than legitimate reasons; undue disturbances; and for violations of other dormitory rules.

Study hours in the women's dormitories are from 7:15 p. m. each day except Saturday and Sunday. In the sophomore and freshman dormitories closed study hours are kept from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. In junior-senior dorms three light-cuts per room are permitted each week; in the sophomore-freshman dorms two light-cuts per room per week are allowed.

MEN'S DORMITORIES

Here are a few additional regulations that apply particularly to men students.

Overnight absence must be arranged with the Head of the men's dormitory. The whereabouts of all students must be known at all times, should they be needed for any special reason. Men may entertain their families in the dorm lobby at specified times. Men's visiting hours for student rooms in Carnegie and Bartlett are from 3:30 to 7:15 p. m. each day.

Disciplinary measures will be taken by the Executive Council of the Faculty or the Supervisor of Men's Residence for infractions of these rules: abusing light privilege; visiting or having visitors after 11 p. m.; creating a disturbance in the dormitory or causing the willful destruction of property; and violation of other dormitory regulations.

OFF-CAMPUS MEN

Though you may have to room off-campus for a while—say, your first year at Maryville—you'll get into the dorm after while. Till you do, remember that the same behavior is expected of you—if not better—in private homes than the dormitory heads would expect of you on campus. Be considerate in your use of radio, lights, and leisure time. For overnight absences, report to the Supervisor of Men's Residence in Carnegie Hall. Men rooming off-campus, both local and out of town, may use washrooms in Bartlett, Thaw, and Carnegie, and the lounge room in the Student Center building.

JUST IN GENERAL

Though the foregoing lists may seem like a lot of rules, you'll discover if only by reading between the lines (and we hope you've done more than that!) that if you are considerate and well-behaved, you'll get along swimmingly at Maryville without even knowing there are such things as regulations and penalties. But a few will need disciplinary measures, even these: Demerits, given by the Executive Council of the Faculty for violations of College regulations; Dismissal from College, given by the same body when a student accumulates 15 penalized absences in one semester, or gets ten demerits, or persistently fails to cooperate with the general College program.

General regulations, which you'd probably follow anyway, include such as these: Ball throwing or snowballing nearer buildings than the roadways is not permitted; Sunday visiting of drug stores, restaurants, and the like, and using College athletic facilities on Sunday is not to be done, and visiting pool rooms or establishments selling beer or other intoxicants is never to be done. Use of intoxicants by students is strictly forbidden.

F IS FOR FOOD

If you like to eat—and even if you don't you're bound to spend some of your semester here doing just that—you'll soon discover Pearsons Dining Hall. Meals are served there each day. Breakfast is served at 7 a. m. on weekdays and at 8 on Sundays. Luncheon is served at 12:30 p. m. each day. Dinner is served at 6:00 p. m. Monday through Friday, and at 5:30 on Saturdays and Sundays.

Your tablemates, all seven of them, will appreciate your appearing well-groomed and well-mannered at meals. Particularly before dinner is a good time to freshen up a little, but all meals deserve your best mealtime etiquette.

Try to make the conversation table-wide, but not at the expense of your lungs. Loud and boisterous talking is frowned upon not only by the College in general but also by those tables nearest yours. You'll want to be attentive and reverent during the blessing especially.

Don't forget that your waitress, while she is interested in your health and well-being, has classes and obligations of her own. She'll appreciate your consideration in getting to and from meals on time.

Your guests may eat in the dining hall by arranging with the Dietician. Prices for breakfasts are 25c all week; lunch costs 60c on weekdays, 75c on Sundays; dinner is 60c Monday through Friday, and supper is 35c on Saturday and Sunday night.s

A IS FOR ATTENDANCE

Although you are allowed a certain number of "cuts" from classes, Chapel, Sunday School and Church, it would be a good idea not to miss any more than you feel really necessary.

You are advised to keep a careful personal record of all your cuts. This way, you will know when you are about to overcut, which is a very handy thing to know.

The College will, of course, excuse you for illness or other emergency upon written request to the Personnel Office. This request must be submitted to the main office within two days after you return to classes. You are to notify the Head of the Dormitory of any situation which requires your absence from class. No excuse will be given unless you do this.

You will also be excused for any authorized activity, such as scheduled trips for members of the debate squad, ball teams, choir, etc.

Below, you will find the number of allowed cuts for each class or service listed, and below that, you will find the penalties for overcutting. Read them carefully and get them well in mind. There is a chart on the next page you may use to keep a record of your cuts, if you wish.

Chapel	3
Sunday School or Church (total of)	3
1-credit-hour class	1
2-credit-hour class	1

a. For each "over-cut" one-half hour and one and one-half grade points will be deducted from the total credit.

b. For "cuts" within two days before and after a recess or holiday, one-half semester hour and one-half grade points will be deducted for each class missed.

C IS FOR COUNCIL

Student Council represents Maryville's all-campus student governing body. Through the Council student matters may go up for faculty opinion to the Student-Faculty Senate.

In February, 1949, the present student body constitution was voted by the student body, having previously been approved by the Faculty and Student Council. This constitution is the completion of the efforts of many Student Councils.

In addition to making and enforcing Town Night regulations, your Student Council has various other duties to perform. All-campus elections are conducted by the Council and through its Social Board it plays a large part in planning and directing social activities. It is constantly at work to serve you by representing your suggestions, ideas, and needs in bettering the whole campus program.

All too soon it will again come time to elect new class representatives for Student Council. Your vote should be cast for the classmate you know will serve the class best.

FROM YOUR STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT

Hello, Students,

Once again we look forward to all the activities and experiences which another year at Maryville brings. For some of you it is the first year. To you, the rest of us extend a hearty welcome and hope that your college career may be a happy and successful one. We stand ready to help you in any way we can.

On the next few pages you will find the student body constitution, newly revised during the past year. It would be well worth reading for an understanding of how your student government operates. Many new ideas have been tried during the past year, and many more will be experimented with this year. Let us know what you think as these ideas are advanced; for whatever action the council takes, it does so believing that such is best for our entire college community.

Please don't think of the council as just another organization on the campus. It is your organization. Your best interest is the sole purpose for its even functioning. Under the new representation plan, every student has two or three channels through which to present ideas or problems to the council. Please use them that we may fulfill our purpose which is "to unify the student body in the common motive of self-government in order to assume responsibility in the management of our affairs, strengthen the cooperation between students, faculty, and administration, and increase loyalty to the best interests of the college."

Sincerely,
Bill Nish

WSGA

Since 1946 the women students on campus have carried important responsibilities through their Women's Student Government Association. Based upon a constitution worked out cooperatively by faculty and student representatives, the Association has made splendid progress in developing high morale and effective management in the women's dormitories.

WSGA makes the rules and enforces them within the dormitories. Light cuts, care of equipment and rooms, and student conduct come under their rules. Cooperating with the dormitory Heads, WSGA house chairmen and officers handle student and dormitory problems.

Even at Maryville there are those girls who do not always choose to dwell within the laws made for them. Sometimes when a wrong is done, it is best friend who inflicts the penalty for breaking that rule upon best friend. This is one of the hardest parts of a student government. This year you are a part of WSGA, for the first time if you are a freshman. It is almost an impossibility for it to exist without your help, so work with your WSGA officers and remember that they're just as human as you.

FROM YOUR WSGA PRESIDENT

Hello here!

It is time now for a new year: a new year of learning and growing, a year of living together as roommate and dormmates.

This may be a new experience for some of you, and you will find it a valuable part of your college life, while to others it will be an old story. We will look to your cheerfulness and cooperation for assisting us during the school year, and particularly the first few weeks.

With all the other wonderful things you will find on "The Hill" one of the most lasting will be the friendships you make in the dormitory. This is an advantage that dormitory has over non-dormitory living. We hope you will take this opportunity and use it wisely. Your house chairman will be happy to receive suggestions and questions and will be glad to help you attain the most benefit from dormitory and college life.

Sincerely yours,

Ginni Schwarz

However, through approval of the Constitution and other action the Executive Council at present grants to student organizations certain participation in determining what the rules shall be.

Section 2. The rules governing dormitory life shall be reviewed at least once a year, preferably near the close of the fall semester, by the House Committee in each women's dormitory and by the Coordinating Committee, and the recommendations submitted to the Executive Council through the Dean of Students. One or more of the House Committee Chairmen may go to the Executive Council meeting with the Dean of Students to assist in the presentation. Other house rules not in conflict with the rules established by the faculty may be made from time to time by each House Committee.

ARTICLE VI—Penalties

Section 1. In ordinary cases penalties for infraction of dormitory regulations shall be decided and administered by the House Committee; but the Committee may at its discretion refer cases to the Coordinating Committee for advice or recommendation; the Coordinating Committee may refer the case back to the House Committee or to the Dean of Students for faculty consideration.

Section 2. Penalties imposed by the House Committee shall be in the form of withdrawal of privileges but other penalties may be recommended by the House Committee to the Dean of Students for faculty consideration.

ARTICLE VII—Amendments

Amendments to this Constitution may be made when approved by two-thirds vote of the women in each dormitory and by the Executive Council of the Faculty and the President. Proposed amendments shall be posted in each women's dormitory at least one week before a vote is taken.

Approved by Executive Council of Faculty December 13, 1945. Adopted by Women of the College on January 21, 1946.

BY-LAW NO. 1—House Dues

House dues in the amount to be agreed upon by the residents of the house at the beginning of each semester shall be collected by the House Committee for operating exepenses.

BY-LAW NO. 2—Senior Privileges

The proposal is that senior women shall have several privileges not possessed by underclass women. The purpose is to give students, upon attaining the classification of senior, open recognition of rank.

The provisions are as follows:

1. Each senior woman may have a second Town Night each week with the same rules in effect as stated in the Student Council Town Night proposal.

a. Monitors shall be on duty each night.

1) Monitor duty will be voluntary to a certain extent, after which it will arbitrarily be assigned from an alphabetical list of senior women.

2) It will be necessary to have only one monitor on duty each night if she has a date. Otherwise a girl must be in a group of three girls. The assignment sheet will be posted several days beforehand so that the proper arrangements can be made.

3) On the nights when no girls sign out before nine o'clock it will not be necessary for monitors to be on duty. If a group of girls decides to go after nine o'clock, one of the girls in the group will act as monitor.

4) Those girls who do not wish to cooperate in the monitor system will not receive the privileges.

5) It shall be the duty of monitors to report to Executive Committee of WSGA all underclass women taking privileges set aside for senior women, and all senior women infringing upon provisions of senior privileges.

2. On the second Town Night (other than Tuesday) dating in Knoxville will be permitted senior women provided they report back to their dormitories by eight thirty p. m. Groups of three or more women may have the same privilege. Only bus transportation is approved.

3. Senior women shall also have the privilege of dating on Sunday afternoon from three o'clock until the supper hour. They shall be allowed to date on campus, walk in the residential section of the city, and sign up for parlor dates. Groups of couples may walk in the College Woods or around the seven-mile loop.

It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee of WSGA to impose or recommend the following penalties:

A. Infringments by senior women of any of the above provisions will result in suspension of all senior privileges for four months.

B. Any underclass women taking privileges without permission set aside for senior women shall be reported by senior women to whom privileges are allowed.

1. Underclass women in town on any night except Tuesday night without special permission from the Dean of Women or the house mother shall forfeit the Tuesday Town Night privilege for four months of the school year.

2. The infraction by underclass women of the senior privileges of dating in Knoxville, unless authorized to be there, and Sunday afternoon dating shall result in a suspension of their Tuesday Town Night for four months of the school year.

3. It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee of WSGA to withdraw any or all privileges of a student who does not live up to the general standards or principles or whose conduct is unseemly.

MEN'S STUDENT ORGANIZATION

Relatively new in the College organizational system is the Men's Student Organization. In 1948 MSO was planned and formed for the main purpose of representing all college men in Student Council and Student-Faculty Senate.

Since then this growing organization is assuming more and more duties of importance to student men. In addition to representation it plays an important role in responsibilities concerning new students and the management of the men's dormitories.

All men students automatically become members of MSO upon entering Maryville College. True representation of campus men cannot be possible unless all men join in with the best spirit of the program.

FROM YOUR MSO CHAIRMAN

Welcome, Fellows:

Two years ago the fellows of Maryville College decided that their group was not adequately represented in the student government and organized themselves into the Men's Student Organization of Maryville College. Since that time representatives of the men students in the dormitory, temporarily off-campus, and town residents, have presented the point of view of our group on Student Council, in the Student-Faculty Senate, and in other phases of the student government.

You new fellows will want to become acquainted with your representative of MSO; it's his job to uphold your interests in student body affairs, as stated in our constitution.

Though fairly recent in organization, MSO has tried to plan fairly and adequately for the men students; in the coming year we'd like to see more of our plans come into action. That can only come through your help, your backing, and your ideas.

Best of opportunities in the coming year!

Sincerely yours,

Ray Holsey

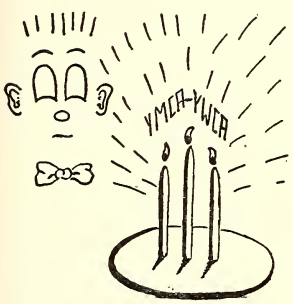
Y IS FOR CHRISTIANITY

YMCA and YWCA as they stand here are two groups of letters—all of equal importance; but the theme of this year's Y program is "get the center right." Now, let's change the letters with emphis on the center—ymCa and ywCa. Although the organizations are separate they both stand for the same thing—Christianity through leadership and fellowship.



Each Sunday afternoon shortly after lunch the Y's meet, sometimes separately and sometimes jointly, for a brief worship service through many different mediums planned by the worship committees.

The Y's are two of the most important organizations on campus. Each year they sponsor various all-campus programs separately and combine to furnish you with the M Book and the "Y" Store.

The Y kitchen is a place where you can go and prepare food for a party you are having in the YW rooms or you can go when you get a sudden longing to smell cookies or a cake baking in an oven.

Although you're already a member of Y, you will be given an opportunity to become an active member. The Y's urge you to take that pledge and join them in "getting the center right" this year.

FROM YOUR YWCA PRESIDENT

Hello Gals,

It's so good to have you with us at Maryville. We sincerely hope you will grow to love the College and its traditions as much as we do.

Among the organizations which impress you first when you arrive is the YWCA. We feel its program is the most far-reaching on the campus. Through mission work, Barnwarming, parties, hikes, and Sunday afternoon programs, YW seems able to help everyone "Get the Center Right."

This will be a good year in YW, but it will be very good if you will help us and let us help you.

Most sincerely,

FROM YOUR YMCA PRESIDENT

Greetings Men!

The YMCA takes pleasure in welcoming you to Maryville College. We stand ready to serve you in any way we can to help make your stay on the Hill a happy and prosperous one.

The purpose of the Y is to minister to the needs of body, mind, and spirit of young men. Such an organization plays a vital part on a college campus where many men are for the first time living away from their homes and churches. Therefore, when we plan our work for the year, we try to make a place in Y for every man. If you would like to help in leading the service at prayer meeting, the Devotion and Discussion committee would like to see you. On the other hand, if your talents lie in the field of athletics, there is a place for you on one or more of our intramural teams. (Incidentally, last year the Y won two championships in intramurals.)

Very shortly after school opens in the fall, the old members officially welcome the new men on the campus at the watermelon pow-wow. Then later in the semester we go on the annual hike in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, so be sure to bring your mountain climbing shoes to Maryville with you.

We earnestly look forward to your arrival and hope to welcome you all into membership in the YMCA.

Sincerely,

Bill Chalker
President YMCA

X-TRA CURRICULAR

While Maryville College puts its major emphasis, naturally enough, on scholastic standing, you'll want to be active in a few extra-curricular fields too. We warn you—you'll be tempted to join all the fascinating clubs and organizations the campus boasts. But book learning comes first; better still, find a happy balance between grades and activities. You'll find enough of both to satisfy you; and, while our hospital is cool and comfortable, it isn't run as a rest home for exhausted activity hounds.

We hope you'll find activities that will make the most of your time and interests. Efforts and enthusiasm wear better and are more appreciated when they're concentrated. If you budget your time wisely, you'll have not only good grades but also an important place in campus life.

ORGANIZATIONS

Alpha Gamma Sigma

Alpha Gamma Sigma is Maryville's honor society similar to Phi Beta Kappa in scholarship standards. Ten percent of graduating seniors may be admitted to this organization provided that the members have a grade point ratio of 6.5 which is somewhat more than a B average.

Pi Kappa Delta

Speech arts organization of Maryville is Pi Kappa Delta, representing Tennessee Alpha Chapter of National Honorary Forensic Fraternity. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in intercollegiate oratory, debate, and public speaking. Deserving members of this organization are awarded various degrees of merit according to rank and achievement. Each year the debate squads, varsity and freshmen, attain high positions in national and local tournaments.

Sigma Delta Psi

Sigma Delta Psi is an athletic society in which membership is attained by the successful completion of various athletic tests in the presence of a responsible committee.

Theta Alpha Phi

Student dramatists upon achieving membership requirements may belong to Maryville's Tennessee chapter of the national honorary dramatic fraternity, Theta Alpha Phi. Members of this organization take a leading part in dramatic activities on campus.

Pi Gamma

Pi Gamma is a YW sponsored organization for women town students through which town and dormitory students meet and become better acquainted with each other. Many luncheons are given throughout the year, and you'll probably be invited to at least one of them if you're a dorm girl.

Student Volunteers

Student Vols is part of a national movement for students to promote interest in missionary work and the mission fields. Regular meetings are held each Sunday night after Vespers, usually in Bartlett auditorium. Interesting programs concerning various phases of missions are planned for the meetings, and whenever possible, missionaries are invited to speak to the group.

Parish Project

If you are vitally interested in local Christian mission service, you'll want to join Parish Project. This organization is sponsored and supported jointly by the Board of Naticnal Missions, the Board of Christian Education, Maryville College, and New Providence Presbyterian Church. Students who apply and are accepted perform such duties as Sunday School teaching and administration, teaching weekday Bible classes in a selected group of public schools, supervising young people's societies, and leading character building activities for boys and girls. Parish Project is conducted as a class, and college credit is given to those who complete the semester's work satisfactorily.

Ministerial Association

Organized in 1900 for students planning to become ministers and for those interested in other phases of Christian ministry, the Ministerial Association has become one of the most vital and active religious groups on campus. This organization sponsors prayer meetings on campus, preaching and pastoral work in the county jail, and many other services, including work at local missions and rural churches.

Writer's Workshop

Literary interest and achievement are the basis for membership in Writer's Workshop. Members are elected from the junior and senior classes. Each member writes and presents to the group two papers each year for criticism and in turn serves as literary critic.

Varied activities and friendships highlight the program of Bainonian Society. Soon after school starts Bainonian joins with her brother society Athenian to present a Rush Week program; Freshman "rushees" get green and white beanies and membership in a Greek-letter chapter of this friendly society. Weekly meetings through the year are held in Bainonian Hall.

Theta Epsilon

Organized in 1894, Theta Epsilon Society has played an active part in campus life. Through its Rush Week program, which is presented in co-operation with Alpha Sigma, its brother society, and its weekly meetings during the year, it stresses good times and lasting friendships among its members and among those of the other societies.

Alpha Sigma

Fun, fellowship, and activity in the College's intramural sports program are offered men of the College by Alpha Sigma Society, founded in 1884. In addition to joining with its sister society Theta Epsilon for a yearly Rush Week program, Alpha Sigma conducts regular weekly meetings.

Athenian

Lasting friendships are made in Athenian Society, oldest society on the campus. College men appreciate a society that brings them a varied and interesting social program and also active participation in the College's intramural athletics program. Athenian joins Bainonian, its sister society, in its annual Rush Week program and holds weekly meetings in Bartlett Hall.

International Relations Club

Well-informed speakers, forums, discussion groups, and movies highlight the semi-monthly meetings of International Relations Club on the campus. Affiliated internationally through the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, the College club and its hundreds of brother clubs seek to interest college students in current affairs and international problems which must be solved to secure peaceful civilization. To engage in the transaction of club business and be eligible for its officership one must join at the beginning of the semester, but all MCers are urged to attend and participate in the discussions and programs.

Pre-Med Club

For all those College men and women preparing for medical careers—and that includes nursing and medical technology—the Pre-Med Club offers interesting programs and a chance to discuss both with other students in your field and also with professional medical people the problems and practices of medical vocations. Its meetings feature informal lectures by doctors and nurses, movies of medical information, and tours of local hospitals.

French Club

If you're planning to go further than freshman French, you may well look forward to membership in the French Club. Composed of thirty members who are taking advanced French and also qualify by scholarship and interest, this club features semi-monthly programs of French songs, games, movies and plays, and holds an annual social affair. The French Club offers educational and recreational opportunities for you if you're so minded.

German Club

The German Club accepts as members all College men and women who are interested in German culture, regardless of whether or not they are German students. In regular meetings twice a month the club presents interesting programs to stimulate interest and arouse participation in different phases of German culture.

Spanish Club

Entertaining but informative programs with a Spanish theme are presented twice monthly by the Spanish Club. Not only the language but also the customs and culture of Spanish-speaking countries come in for discussion and comment by club members, who are elected from members of the Spanish classes. Club plans include the annual outdoor picnic and the Christmas party featuring the Spanish pinata.

"M" Club

Girls, if you're sports minded and athletically inclined, you can win membership in the "M" Club by earning 400 or more points in the Point System. The Point System leads to both good sportsmanship and "M" Club membership. Besides their two-hour-a-week Point System participation, club members meet monthly for business discussions and hike annually for a weekend in the Smokies.

Art Club

If you're artistically minded, membership is open for you in the Art Club. Sketching parties, trips to various arts exhibits, movies, and lectures by professionals in the field of art are highlighted in its programs. Various exhibits which come to the College for display in Lamar Library are also arranged by this small but active club.

Camera Club

"Hold that pose—got you!" And you're snapped by an enthusiastic member of the Camera Club. Besides its meetings to discuss photography as a hobby and a profession, the club has its own darkroom in Bartlett Hall which its members may use. Organized in 1946, the club continues to grow and to develop its members' abilities.

Disc Club

In 1936 a group of lovers of good music organized the Disc Club to encourage music appreciation on the Hill. Well-planned half-hour programs of music, accompanied by appropriate comments by an interested student or faculty member, are presented twice monthly after the evening meal. There are no officers, no dues—if you like good music you'll want to become acquainted with the Disc Club.

"B. G."

This exclusive girls' club wouldn't even tell your editors what their secret initials mean! Originally formed for hiking purposes, this club now has more varied activities but has retained its eight-member limit.

High Society

The High Society is one of the newest clubs on campus. Requirements for membership are that one be female and five feet seven inches tall—or taller. At weekly meetings the club learns ballet, pantomine, and choreography. The High Society appears in various campus shows; last year it presented outstanding performances in a Barnwarming sequence and in a "dream" dance number in the May Day Pageant.

Future Teachers of America

Newest club on the Hill is the Jasper Converse Barnes Chapter of the Future Teachers of America. If you're planning to teach, you're eligible for membership in this affiliate of the National Education Association. Monthly programs center around movies, discussions, and items of interest to future educational workers.

N IS FOR NEWS

Maryville offers several opportunities for those interested in writing to do some really creative work. The newspaper, annual, and "M" Book give chances to feature writers, sports writers, artists, and those interested in other phases of journalism.

Highland Echo

The Highland Echo is the weekly College newspaper. The staff is made up of members from all the classes, with the Editor and Business Manager coming from the senior class. Students may join the Echo staff by competitive writing. The Echo keeps the students well informed of College affairs as well as a bit of the world situation.

Chilhowean

The Chilhowean is the annual year-book which is published by members of the junior class. It gives a pictorial coverage of the year's happenings as well as pictures of nearly all the students grouped by classes. The editor, business manager, and their staffs work many long hours on this publication, and the results are never disappointing.

Alumni Magazine

The Alumni Magazine sends news of the College and alumni to former students of the College. It is published quarterly by the Alumni Office.

"M" Book

The "M" Book is this little tome you are now reading. It is published every year by the YMCA and YWCA and is the official College handbook. Its purpose is to let the student know what the score is concerning College rules and regulations, customs, and activities.

D IS FOR DRAMA

One of the departments most seriously affected by the loss of our Chapel in the big fire two years ago has been the Dramatics Department. Costumes, scenery—not to mention that big, beautiful stage!—went up in smoke, and productions since then have had to start from scratch—and a meager scratch, at that.

This year three major plays will be presented under a new plan which has not yet been completed in time for publication. Formerly produced by Societies, this year the casts and crews of the three-acters will be open to all try-outs from the student body. Plays will be presented this year in Alumni Gym. Former MC stage hits have been "Dear Ruth," "Papa Is All," "The Merchant of Venice," and "Wuthering Heights."

Besides the three-acters, Experimental Theatre puts on monthly one-act plays in groups of two on the stage in Bartlett Hall. "Stars are made, not born," and the groundwork budding young Barrymores get from Experimental Theatre paves the way to future BIG roles.

Saturday night programs under the auspices of the Social Board will occasionally call for dramatic talent, too; last year saw a slightly shortened version of "HMS Pinafore," and of course there's always May Day and Rush Week productions.

M IS FOR MUSIC

If you have any musical ability whatsoever, be it singing, blowing a tuba, or playing a kazoo, there is plenty of opportunity at Maryville for you to develop those talents. The musical program for the year begins with the performance of the marching band at the football games and ends with the choir's final anthem on graduation day. Recitals are given nearly every week by the music majors and anyone may attend these.

Faculty recitals are presented from time to time. Band and orchestra concerts are also given at least once a year.

A Capella Choir

This group provides good training and real pleasure for those who are interested in singing. It is composed of about sixty members who must pass rigid try-outs before they are accepted. The group participates in the weekly Vesper services and the daily Chapel programs as well as presenting special programs in Maryville and surrounding cities.

All Girl Choir

This group is composed, oddly enough, entirely of girls, who are admitted through try-outs each semester. The group, about fifty-six in number, sometimes relieves the A Capella Choir at Vesper services and presents other programs in Maryville and adjoining cities. In the spring, the girls join with the Men's Glee Club and present one of the big campus programs of the year.

Men's Glee Club

After several years of inactivity, the Men's Glee Club was reorganized two years ago and has enjoyed considerable success. The membership consists of about forty boys, but additional members may come in via try-outs each semester. In the spring, the fellows and the All-Girl Choir present a program called "Springtime Serenade," consisting of popular and semi-classical numbers from well-known musicals, which has become one of the highlights of the spring term.

Band

Those students who enjoy playing a musical instrument are urged to try out for the college marching band. The band, numbering about fifty pieces, plays for all the home football games and takes one one-of-town trip with the team. For sophomores, the marching practice takes the place of the intramural requirement. When football season is over, the marching band reorganizes as a concert band. You don't have to be in one to get in the other, although you would be welcomed. The concert band gives an outdoor concert during the last few days before commencement.

Orchestra

For those who prefer their music a bit more classical, the college orchestra has a place. Due to the chapel fire, which destroyed many of the instruments, the orchestra has been reorganized only a few years. It has grown rapidly, however, and is now back to its pre-fire standard. The group, each year, accompanies the "Messiah" and gives one or two concerts annually.

Tau Kappa Chi

Tau Kappa Chi is a musical organization for the women of the College who are either music majors or interested applied music students. Its purpose is to promote student and community interest in music. The aims are to raise the general academic standard of the music department; to provide a goal for all students interested in music; and to promote thoroughly trained musicianship and further the understanding of all types of music.

S IS FOR SPORTS

Every American boy has, at one time or another, dreamed of being a star in some sport. At Maryville, there is every chance of making that dream a reality. Maryville is very active in intercollegiate athletics and also maintains a well organized intramural sports program for those who wish to participate. For the girls, there is a well-developed point system whereby girls may earn a sweater with a "M" on it or an "MC" monogram.

Maryville's Athletic Policy

Maryville stands for a well-rounded, well-developed college life. The College understands that one must develop physically as well as mentally and morally, and for that reason places an emphasis on athletics of all kinds. Besides being well represented in intercollegiate athletics, the College also sponsors an intramural program for men and a point system for girls.

Maryville does not buy her athletes. Those who come here do so with the understanding that places on the teams are earned by physical abilities and acceptable scholarship; nothing else. In addition, physical prowess alone doesn't "make" a student at Maryville. Scholastic ability and "all-'roundness" count, too.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association is composed of the entire study body and faculty of Maryville College. Its purpose is to work in cooperation with the Department of Athletics of the College for the furtherance of desirable conditions in that field. Each spring an Executive Board (commonly called the Athletic Board of Control) is elected to act for the Association. This Board is composed of a president, vice president, secretary, and three boys, two girls, and two faculty members as representatives. The Director of Athletics is an ex-officio member of the Board. The Board performs such functions as electing managers for athletic teams, and making awards to members and managers of these teams as well as to cheerleaders and "point-system" girls.

You are urged to take part in the activities of the Athletic Association whether or not your interests are in that direction.

Intercollegiate Athletics

Athletics at Maryville have been taking great strides forward since the war. Before the war, Maryville was known throughout the South for her strength in minor sports. Now, however, we are enjoying a little more prestige in the field of major sports than was formerly accorded us.

Excellent records in football, basketball, and baseball have accounted for our major sport recognition. Teams in cross-country, track, swimming, and wrestling have all given a good account of themselves. An undefeated tennis team also adds greatly to our sporting laurels. We hope to hold on to the laurels we have won and to accumulate a few more in the coming year. Let's all get behind our teams and support them, win or lose, because school spirit is part of Maryville's athletic program too.

Intramural

The intramural program gives Maryville men and women a chance to participate in various non-varsity sports for good fellowship, vigerous competition, and physical fitness. Both men and women have a similar system and organization, each with a Director who will give full information regarding each program. The fellows participate in football, soccer, volleyball, basketball, swimming, track, and softball. The girls take part in soccer, volleyball, basketball, swimming, tennis, and softball. The intramural program includes the regular physical education classes for sophomores, two hours each week of participation being required. Although not required of juniors and seniors, many of the upper classmen actively take part in the fun and recreation which these sports provide.

Point System

As at most colleges, there are no longer intercollegiate contests for women at Maryville. For them has been substituted the Point System. Participation in the different sports qualifies a girl for a given number of points. To those earning over 300 points awards are made at the end of each year. Every girl must walk the seven-mile loop twelve times a year, swim twice a month, and spend an hour in exercise daily. Those who play basketball, soccer, softball, or volleyball earn 30 points for their team. Taking part in swimming, track, tennis, hiking, or aerial dart tournaments entitles a girl to 50 points. Additional points are awarded for sportsmanship, membership on the squad, managing a team, and perfect attendance. The observance of health rules gives a maximum of 25 points a semester. High scholarship adds a percentage of the total. Members of the "M" Club (those who have earned at least 400 points) take a mountain hike each spring, and enjoy other activities.

S IS FOR SONG

Alma Mater

Where Chilhowee's lofty mountains
Pierce the southern blue,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater,
Noble, grand, and true.

Chorus

Orange, Garnet, float forever,
Ensign of our hill!
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Hail to Maryville!

As thy hilltop crowned with cedars
Ever green appears,
So thy memory fresh shall linger
Through life's smiles and tears.

Lift the chorus, wake the echoes,
Make the welkin ring!
Hail the queen of all the highlands!
Loud her praises sing!

On Highlanders

(Words and Music by Charles Huffman, '49)

On Highlanders down the field,
Rolling up a high score!
Tear into the end zone,
Smash on through that line,
Highlanders!

Send a rousing cheer on high
And our boys will shine,
Come on and fight, fight, fight!
Come on and fight, fight, fight!
For dear old Maryville!

GLOSSARY OF UNFAMILIAR TERMS

Bell—that object hung in Anderson tower which calls us to classes and to meals, and which, when rung following a football game, indicates another Scotty victory.

Blue Book—those little eight-page notebooks which many teachers require examinations taken in; also used to refer to the kind of test which requires a blue book.

BMOC—significant abbreviation for Big Man on Campus; ladies are BWOC.

Circle Drive—pleasant walking on the circular drive surrounding the main campus, to be enjoyed till 7:15 each night (7 on Sundays).

Comps—short for Comprehensive Examinations, an excruciating ordeal which Seniors go through at the end of their College stay.

Cram—colloquial verb meaning to attempt to assimilate some knowledge of a course just prior to an exam.

Crip Course—extinct. Everybody may call it that just before YOU take it. Supposed to be a course in which a D student can get an A without even buying a textbook.

Cut—what you take when you're absent from a class on your own responsibility; check on your allowances elsewhere in this book.

Friendliness—MC's chief pride and joy. Recognizable by a cheerful "Howdy!" which will soon make you one of the big and happy College family.

Honor Roll—what you're on if your last semester's average was B or better. Raises your reputation and also the number of cuts you're allowed.

Light Cut—in the women's dorms, keeping your light on after 11 p. m. Check regulations for allowances and rules regarding this.

Loitering—Student Council term which really means you'd better keep moving on your way to and from Town Night and other College doin's.

Loop—comes in a variety of sizes: 5 miles for hikers, 7 miles for intrepid hikers. Also a special 12 mile or large economy size for exercise faddists.

Moonshined—state you'll want to avoid at all costs. Means you and the gal-friend or boy friend as the case may be, can't date anybody for a stated time. Conduct always becoming a lady or gentleman is good liability insurance against this.

Quiz—short examination, generally of the Pop variety, guaranteed to catch you by surprise —and at a loss, if you're not parallel with the class schedule.

Student Help—includes practically all students. Applied to those who type, wait tables, assist teachers, wag mailbags, staff the Library—and a host of other student-filled jobs at Maryville. Ten hours a week is an average schedule, and when the tenth of the month brings pay day around, a little extra cash looks mighty attractive.

Tobacco Road—the foot of the big Steps where the College's regulation against smoking stops. If you must smoke, do it here—but remember, the Steps are pretty now, although they won't be long if obscured by clouds of smoke and piles of cigarette stubs.

Welcome—a friendly greeting extended to all new guys and gals and to all returning MCers; contains all the best wishes for good luck and success in '49-'50 and all years to come!
